About This School

Las Palmas School is located in National City, California, a community south of San Diego. Las Palmas is a preschool to 6th grade elementary school. Fifty-four percent of our students are English Language Learners and all of our students meet low-income criteria. The staff consists of 32 certificated teachers, 2 impact teachers, 21 classified employees and 6 support staff. We have 32 regular classrooms.

Principal's Message

Welcome to Las Palmas School! We, at Las Palmas, strive for excellence in education and will provide an inspiring, safe and challenging environment for all children. It is our goal to "Create Successful Learners Now!"

Las Palmas has an excellent staff of teachers, aides and support staff who are committed to creating the best possible educational experience for your children. Our efforts have been focused on the improvement of student achievement at all levels and for all children.

Mission Statement & Core Values,

La Palmas School is more than an elementary school. It is an educational community. The staff, students, and their families are caring, respectful, and work together to provide a high quality education for all children. We believe in the cumulative, purposeful effect of our instruction. We care deeply about our students' education before they come to our classrooms, for the temporary time they are with us, and long after they leave us. Our goal is to provide a nurturing environment that will promote lifelong learners and contributors to our society. We believe in our National School District's Core Values.

"Children first"
"Whatever it takes"
"Relationships matter"
